New Councillors

Westerham Town Council is pleased to welcome three new councillors who joined us in July.

Claire Dicker has lived close to Westerham all of her life and works here as a podiatrist. She cares passionately about the town and wants to give a voice for local people and in particular our businesses and young people. She sits on the Allotments, Playing Fields and Open Spaces and Youth and Community committees.

Mario Bortolozzo moved to Westerham in 2003. He is a retired Chartered Surveyor working in and then starting and running property advisory businesses dealing with, mainly, retail property throughout the UK. He sits on the Highways and Lighting and Youth and Community Committees and wants to use his expertise to help improve our community.

Ian Breminer moved to Oxted in 1986 and then to Westerham in 2019. He works in his family's coffee business and wants to be able to contribute to improving Westerham and our environment. He sits on the Finance and General Proposes and Highways and Lighting committees.

We hope you will join with us in welcoming them all and look forward to the positive contribution they will make to Town Council and Westerham.
